

Print Bookmark Request this item

Palliative Medicine Content of Vocational Training for General Practice

Author: The Royal College of General Practitioners; Association for Palliative Medicine; Styles, Bill

Publication Year: 1993

Item available on request

Request this item

Contents

Remit of the working party

Place of training

Training objectives

Educational context and methods

Needs of learners

Teaching resources

Local policy

Approval of post/ joint hospital visits

Training objectives: core curriculum

Physical aspects of care

Psychological aspects of care

Cultural influences

Ethical issues

Teamwork

Practical issues

Training opportunities for palliative care in hospital posts commonly approved for training in general practice

Accident and emergency

Obstetrics and gynaecology

Paediatrics

Medicine/ geriatric medicine

General surgery

Psychiatry

Hospice posts

Higher professional training of established principles in general practice

Attributes of the independent practitioner

Teaching resources

National resources

Useful agencies

Format Print

Keywords vocational education, general practice, palliative care

Publisher The Royal College of General Practitioners/ Association for Palliative Medicine

Classification vocational education

Edition First

ISBN 0-85084-174-7

Pages 16

Categories: Reports