Irish Apartheid: healthcare inequality in Ireland

Author: Burke, Sara

Publication Year: 2009

Item available on request

Request this item

Contents

Acknowledgements
Introduction
Chapter 1 Ireland's unequal system of healthcare - 'I am going to die because of hospital waiting lists'
Chapter 2 Why we have never adopted a universal healthcare model
Chapter 3 The HSE: did we create a monster?
Chapter 4 The 'black hole' myth and hospitals - activity, unequal access, consultants, staffing and 'crises'
Chapter 5 The thorniest issue of all - the location of specialities and hospitals in Ireland
Chapter 6 The drive to privatise
Chapter 7 Public health - the missing link in Irish health policy
Chapter 8 Ignored yet essential: primary, community and continuing care services in Ireland
Chapter 9 The perfect storm...universal healthcare for all
Epilogue
Notes to Text
Index

Description

In Irish Apartheid, Sara Burke demystifies the health services. She debunks the 'black-hole' myth of spending, and highlights the State's failure to provide comprehensive public health services. She lays bare the HSE and our two-tier system, while revealing the silent privatisation of key aspects of public healthcare.
Written for any Irish citizen who is concerned with the inequality that is at the core of Irish health policy, this book is also crucial reading for people who study or work in the health services, for policymakers and politicians.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Format</th>
<th>Print</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Keywords</td>
<td>access to health care, social inequality, health, health policy</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Publisher</td>
<td>New Island</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Classification</td>
<td>access to health care</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ISBN</td>
<td>9781848400368</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pages</td>
<td>354</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Categories:</td>
<td>Irish Content, Books</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>