

Patients depiction of their general practitioner /family physician across Europe

Author/Researcher: Claire Collins

Description

The main objective is to describe patients' depiction of their general practitioner /family physician in various European countries.

The secondary objective is to identify the influence of the healthcare system on patients' depiction of their general practitioner/family physician, noting the various health care systems in operation in the participating countries.

Contents

Kennedy C, Vahey C and Collins C. Do Irish patients trust their general practitioner? National Institute of Health Sciences Research Bulletin June 2010, 5 (3):25-26.

Objectives

GP surgeries 5-10 GPs will be asked to participate in the study and to permit recruitment of their patients.

Patients who have attended the GP in the past six months and are known to the practice for at least six months will be asked to participate in qualitative interviews.

Status Current

Publisher Irish College of General Practitioners

AlternativeTitle EUROPORTRAIT

Description The main objective is to describe patients' depiction of their general practitioner/family physician in various European countries. The secondary objective is to identify the influence of the healthcare system on patients' depiction of their general practitioner/family physician, noting the various health care systems in operation in the participating countries.

Other

Contributors(s) Casey O'Brien, Catherine Vahey

Publication
Year 2007

Publication
Status Peer reviewed . .

Data Available to other researchers? No

Completion
Date 01/09/2008

ICGP Library Catalogue, item no: DE7C62D0-5C3E-479B-934EF6E5CDD95247