

FSEM Workshop 2019

Calf & Achilles Injuries: Effective Clinical Management

13th September 2019

RCSI

@FSEM_IRL

FSEM2019.com

Craig Purdam

Adjunct Professor, University of Canberra & La Trobe University

Former Head of Physiotherapy,
Australian Institute of Sport

Phil Glasgow

Head of Physiotherapy and Rehabilitation,
Irish Rugby Football Union

Chief Physiotherapy Officer,
Team GB at the 2016 Olympics

Seth O'Neill

Associate Professor of Physiotherapy,
University of Leicester

PhD: 'A Biomechanical Approach to Achilles Tendinopathy management'

This exciting and clinically relevant workshop will bring together world experts in the management of calf and Achilles injuries. The highly practical day will apply the latest evidence and include insights on calf muscle function, risk factors for injury and recurrence as well as strategies to facilitate effective healing and restore performance.

Objective: Enhanced management of Calf muscle & Achilles tendon injuries

Audience suited: Physiotherapists, Athletic therapists, Sports Medicine doctors

Cost: €180

Register: fsem2019.com/pre-conference-workshop/